

No roof to call their own

- Thousands of people lack access to safe and affordable housing.
- Housing insecurity affects physical and mental well-being, education, and economic stability.
- Families in the villages live in dilapidated huts made of mud, straw, or plastic sheets. During the monsoon season, their homes leak, leaving them on cold, wet floors.
- Children live in these houses with cracked walls and mud floors, exposing to illness and the danger of reptiles.

Vimukti Charitable Trust (R)

Project Habitat

Lifting Lives by Building Homes

A venture of Vimukti Charitable Trust to build small and sustainable houses to the poorest families of Raichur District, Karnataka - helping them to achieve a better future, raise their standard of living and free them from the threat of homelessness

A home is not just roof over one's head it's a foundation for dreams

Without a stable home, families struggle to build a future. Vimukti aims to break the cycle of poverty by providing homes that offer security, dignity, and a foundation for brighter futures.

Empowerment through Shelter

THE FAMILY

Enjoys social status, especially children live in dignity and self respect. A decent house provides healthy environment, financial viability and sense of ownership.

Let's build together

YOUR DONATION is not just to build a house but to build hope, dignity and future. You become part of a movement to end homelessness and transform lives.
