3. Training to Enrolled children on effective uses of sponsor resources to age group 17-24:

Usually children after completion of their SSLC education are less motivated and in some cases unable to communicate to their sponsors. There was lots of on behalf letters for these children, therefore the children had to motivate towards the effective sponsor communication and the needs and importance of the communication. Some have less interest towards their higher education and discontinued their education after SSLC or PUC with some unspecific reasons. In those cases the children are motivated to continue their education by certain interventions. Some of them are motivated towards pursuing professional courses to fully utilize their sponsor's contribution towards them. This activity was conducted at Vimukti on 31st August, at Ujire on 22nd and at Vimukti on 29th September. In March 2014 these children are taken to Mangalore for the exposure visit

Conclusion:

The sponsor relation department of the Organization has constantly supported the enrolled children and their family for the effective sponsor communication. This year the Organization has introduced many programs to reduce the delinquencies in sponsor communication and DFC disbursement and opening bank accounts of enrolled children in nationalized banks. Through the implementation of these programs there are significant changes in the attitude of the children and parents towards the sponsor communication. It can also be noticed that the program participation of the children also increased and are actively participating in all the programs and communications. Although there are much improvement, constant support and frequent motivation is needed for the children and family members of the children those who have only Child Initiated Letters. If the children are supported by the parents, staffs and ChildFund frequently, surely they will change their mind set and respond to each communications and ChildFund activity in more effective ways. The Organization and all the children are grateful to ChildFund for the support and guidance given selflessly.
